C. Child support motions.

4. The Domestic Relations Referee is authorized to conduct the following scheduling and settlement conferences in domestic relations cases in accordance with MCR 3.215:

Scheduling conferences in domestic relations cases. The Court must review and may either approve or modify the Referee's scheduling.

Settlement conferences in domestic relations cases.

This provision does not apply.

5. Recommendations for certain orders by the Domestic Relations Referee shall be given interim effect pending a judicial hearing on a timely objection or pending the twenty-one (21) day waiting period as authorized by MCR 3.215(g):^a

Orders establishing custody

Orders establishing support

Orders establishing parenting time

Orders modifying support when custody does not change

Orders implementing income withholding

This provision does not apply.

6. Except as limited by subrules MCR 3.215 (G)(2) and (G)(3), the recommended order of a Domestic Relations Referee shall be given interim effect (pending a judicial hearing) only upon an order of the Court issued in the same case.

Date: March 28, 2014

Robert J. Colombo, Jr. Chief Judge
Third Circuit Court

Date Approved by SCAO: May 7, 2014

^a MCR 3.215 (G)(2) provides that the court may not give interim effect to a referee's recommendation for an order for incarceration, an order for forfeiture of any property, or an order imposing costs, fines or other sanctions.

MCR 3.215 (G)(3) provides that the court may not by administrative order give interim effect to a referee's recommendation for an order that falls within MCR 3.215 (G)(2), that changes a child's custody, that changes a child's domicile, or that would render subsequent judicial consideration of the matter moot.

If the court issues an administrative order that gives interim effect to a referee's recommended order, the court must notify the parties of its interim effect by including a notice, under a separate heading, within the referee's recommended order. The notice should be printed in 12-point-or-larger boldface type.
